In our lives we must realize that we are responsible not only to ourselves and the world in which we live but also for that which is to be.

Therefore, we, the editors, dedicate this book to the future and to those who are yet to come.

Prayer Before Birth

Louis MacNeice

I am not yet born, O hear me.

Let not the bloodsucking bat or the rat or the stoat or the clubfooted ghoul come near me.

I am not yet born, console me.

I fear that the human race may with tall walls wall me, with strong drugs dope me, with wise lies lure me, on black racks rack me, in blood-baths roll me.

I am not yet born, provide me

With water to dandle me, grass to grow for me, trees to talk to me, sky to sing to me, birds and a white light in the back of my mind to guide me.

I am not yet born, forgive me

For the sins that in me that world shall commit, my words when they speak me, my thoughts when they think me, my treason engendered by traitors beyond me, my life when they murder by means of my hands, my death when they live me.

I am not yet born, rehearse me

In the parts I must play and the cues I must take when old men lecture me, bureaucrats hector me, mountains frown at me, lovers laugh at me, the white waves call me to folly and the desert calls me to doom and the beggar refuses my gift and my children curse me.

I am not yet born, O hear me.

Let no the man who is beast or who thinks he is God come near me.

I am not yet born, O fill me

With strength against those who would freeze my humanity, would dragoon me into a lethal automaton, would make me a cog in a machine, a thing with one face, a thing, and against all those who would dissipate my entirety, would blow me like thistledown hither and thither or hither and thither like water held in the hands would spill me.

*Let them not make me a stone and let them not spill me.
Otherwise kill me.*

HENDRICK HUDSON HIGH SCHOOL
HALF MOON 1968

In our journey into life we must follow the roadway of time. At each milestone our view of the road changes; our horizon in each direction is new and unique. Before entering high school, we knew little about life: its challenges, its promises, its fulfillments. We sought something that would teach us its meaning and prepare us for becoming a part of it. Hendrick Hudson is a symbol of this—a place in which to find identity and purpose as others have done before us. And so we traveled the road of time until we reached the milestone at which our high school experience began, and as we traveled, we hoped.

Peter Froehlich

As a new year dawned the crush of new faces new experiences new anxieties and new goals forshadowed what was yet to come . . .
James Jurinski

Today's young people, tomorrow's leaders of our nation, need to be trained for their work.
 Our school and its teachers are here to guide our learning as we begin the difficult path of our life.
 Four years ago we, as Hen Hud's freshmen, knew relatively little.
 We began to learn by asking questions, though at times the process was a struggle.
 Now, looking back, we respect our own achievement because we labored hard to succeed.
 Today's young people will one day specialize in various fields of study; even then we will keep asking questions to broaden our knowledge so that we may be capable of making important contributions to society.

Joseph Zaccagnini

Since seventh grade we have gained a great deal from our extra-curricular activities. We felt joy and excitement at school dances and plays, and we knew victory, defeat, and frustration at games. Through joining clubs and participating in sports, we matured and learned to accept an ever-increasing amount of responsibility. A great deal happened from the first time we were crushed on the late bus, until we lined up at graduation. But the value of our experiences at Hen Hud will remain with us always as the foundation of our future aspirations and achievements.

Kenneth Richter

The journey into life is a difficult but rewarding one.
Our stay at Hendrick Hudson has been the true beginning of this journey.
Along this path
we encountered many obstacles.
Yet
we surmounted these obstacles and moved along the path, growing physically, spiritually,
and intellectually as we learned through the guidance of our teachers and counselors.
We found ourselves;
we discovered our talents and interests, developed our skills, and explored new pathways on which to continue our journey.
We found that life has much to offer: joy, excitement, pride, happiness, love, and fulfillment on one hand, and responsibility, tension, anxiety, confusion, and disappointment on the other.
It is time to thank all these people who have helped us to find the right direction in life, the right pathway.
Our senior year has been not only the end but also the beginning of our journey.
Now it is time to embark on a new part of our travels.
Graduation is the culmination of six wonderful years of growing, maturing, mingling, and learning at Hendrick Hudson, six years which will find a tender place in the hearts of each one of us.

District Principal

You have chosen to dedicate your yearbook to the future. It seems to me that one of the most exciting aspects of our every day existence is that of anticipating that which is to be. This may be due to the fact that the present and past are not nearly so rosy and colorful as the world of tomorrow in which we will live.

I share your enthusiasm for the future! A world of peace; a world where we can live together as brothers, though of different color, differing faiths and origin; a universe which includes the unknown and unexplored; a better world and a better way of life.

You have contributed and will, in greater measure, contribute to the kind of world in which those who are yet to come will live. While they will work toward a better school and better education, you will be a part of making a better home and a better life for your children. I have great faith in the ability of your generation to improve on mine as will your predecessors continue the betterment of the future.

You have been fortunate to be a part of a dedicated school and community. You have played your part in the continued and greater success of each. I commend to you that which we expect for having known you—a brighter future for all to come.

Thomas J. Jenkins

TO THE CLASS OF 1968

In keeping with your dedication, may I for just one moment look to the future with you, the Graduating Class of 1968. Your life here has been for the most part a sheltered one, but hopefully, one that has made it clear to you that only in so far as you are willing to assume responsibility for your actions and your opinions can we expect the future to provide the opportunity for all of you to become the type of person our country needs and will continue to need.

As I grow older I wonder about tomorrow and the role that young people play and will continue to play. I experience some fear, much hope but a vast confidence in the ability of your generation to right the wrongs and create the type of world that we all want for ourselves and for our children. My confidence is such that I believe you will do a better job than my generation has and because of this I do look hopefully toward the future in spite of present calamities.

To you all personally, my own best wishes for happiness and success. Remember you take with you a part of Hendrick Hudson High School. My fondest hope is that you will return to contribute in some small way toward the even greater Hendrick Hudson of tomorrow.

For the class of 1968, the certain path we have followed through high school has come to an end. But we will not stop here. We see a new road before us, spreading out in many directions. It is an extension of our narrow path, wider and longer, leading to many goals. We will set out on it towards the fulfillment of our own.

Our teachers have given us an insight to what this road will be like, and have made it meaningful to us. They have stimulated our interests and developed our search for knowledge, in this way preparing us for the future. They have given us a better understanding of the disciplines of both education and life. Without their genuine concern for us, shown in their dedication and stimulation to us, we would surely see our future as a maze, rather than the more certain course we now see.

It is not easy to thank our teachers for all they have done. But we would certainly like to express our appreciation. Their dedication will not be forgotten.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The underclassman enters Hendrick Hudson in a bewildering uncertainty.
His path through life has barely been etched out, and his wondering trail lacks direction.
As he begins his experiences as an underclassman by working for his class, discovering his interest and talents,
and giving of himself he broadens his path.
He makes numerous decisions that will affect him throughout his life.
Each decision, insignificant as it may seem, contributes to the completion of his route.
The obstacles are pushed aside and the way made smoother through each new experience.
As the underclassman's road extends, he continues to follow it toward his ultimate goal: to be a Senior.

SPORTS

We realize that sports constitute a more significant role in our lives than just the pleasure of watching a fast, exciting, well-played game.

The athlete experiences many joys and benefits in participation: he steals second;
he misses the basket;
he runs the dash;
he blocks the pass.
He accepts the hardships of practice that make the game so worthwhile, the victory so meaningful, and he develops a sense of accomplishment.

The player has the knowledge that he is important to the team, whether he be first or second string, alternate or specialist.
He perceives that he is helping to maintain and increase the honor of himself,
the team,
and the student body.

The ability to take victory gracefully is easy for people, but to accept defeat with honor is more difficult. Physical education assumes the responsibility of training the team not only in rules and techniques but also in accepting victory or defeat in a sportsmanlike manner.

Sports are a form of instruction based on participation, and it is through participation that man can gain a true feeling of success and accomplishment. Sports provide a valuable lesson by helping a person welcome success and accept failure.

The agonies and ecstasies of opening night, the power of expression experienced by a debator, the solemn, almost sacred moment: induction into the National Honor Society, the sweetness of melody resounding throughout the auditorium—such a variety of student activities are motivating forces activating the vivacious spirit of Hendrick Hudson.
 Hen Hud is each elected S.O. member fulfilling his responsibilities to fellow students; Hen Hud is the quiet contentment felt by behind-the-scenes crew members;
 it is the excitement of a bonfire, the ever-present enthusiasm of cheerleaders, the unexpected disappointments, the frenzied attempts to meet deadlines, the fun of decorating for a dance, the sheer delight in beholding one's own creativity splattered on newly dried canvas.
 Our school, dedicated to the dream of an educated youth, serves its students well: exploring interests and developing talents offers each student the opportunity to take pride in the achievements of his school, his friends, and himself.

SENIOR CLASS—1968

The restless spirit of mankind, inherent in all of us, drives us on through life.
 It causes us to take numerous and far-reaching journeys.
 These need not be thought of as necessarily conventional in nature, for,
 indeed,
 we take as many journeys with our minds, our emotions,
 and our feelings
 as we ever take in automobiles or airplanes.
 Our six years at Hendrick Hudson High School have provided us with the basis, the fundamental foundations for our future journeys in life.
 We have matured and seen ourselves imbued with the essence of individuality and self-reliance, so necessary for our later life, when we are responsible to ourselves alone
 for our actions.
 We have grown wiser in both material and abstract things.
 Our experience at Hendrick Hudson has provided us with the common sense and the rudiments of knowledge that are required for success in this complicated and complex world.
 The six years we have spent in preparation have been years well-spent.
 We have faced hardships at times, but mostly we have had an enjoyable, exciting experience.
 Now
 those long years are over.
 We are approaching a new portion of our journey.
 We leave Hendrick Hudson as proud and mature young adults ready to assume the burdens of our future lives with confidence and assurance.

Michael Mead
